One possible student version:

The small cafe at the street corner near our school is the perfect home for us students.

It looks a bit old but is very cozy, with its walls painted light yellow and ceiling light blue. It has everything that a student needs. There is a very large table where we can study. When we get tired of studying, we can settle in the comfortable sofa, watching interesting programs on the flat-screen television. If you are hungry, there is a wide range of yummy cuisines waiting for you. But the best thing about the cafe is the peaceful atmosphere there, which can always improve my study efficiency and help me have a good rest as well.
